

The Mark of a Real Estate Pro

I think everyone should take these classes as soon as they become an agent, especially the Rookie Training. Every class I've taken has helped me with a deal I was working on at the time I took the class. The classes added to the real-life experiences I was going through, and helped me see other agents' perspectives as well. I learned a lot, gained credibility, networked with other realtors, and even gained a client through a referral! I enjoyed every class and would recommend them to new agents.

GRI:
Recognized NATIONWIDE
as the Standard for Real Estate
Professionalism and Knowledge

"Earning my GRI designation has not only given me a greater understanding of my profession, but also testifies to clients and prospects that I'm serious about being up to date with the ever changing policies and nuances of my profession. My GRI designation has given me confidence in my abilities to represent my clients which may be the greatest benefit of all."
